

MEXICANS CONCENTRATING AT JUAREZ

Associated Press Dispatch
El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Carranza troops stationed at Casas Grandes and other points of that region at the time General Pershing began his march into Mexico,

are now located at Juarez, opposite
El Paso, and in the rear of General Pershing's columns, it was authoritatively stated today.

No reason has been assigned for the transfer of troops from points
inland to the border.

From reliable sources, it is stated that a Carranza detachment allowed Villa to pass southward on receipt of a message from the bandit leader that he was not making war against Mexico.

General Gavira, the Carranza

commander, who announced today that he had information that Villa was heading toward Namiquipa, said he knew nothing of the American troops except that they are hard on the chase.

He says he has no details of Carranza troops co-operating in the movement.

General Gavira's latest advices today indicate that a clash between Villa's troops and Carranza forces is imminent.

Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, March 20.—General Carranza today replied to the American request for use of Mexican railroad lines for movement of plies to the punitive expedition by a request for more complete information as to exactly what the Department wants.

General Carranza's reply was sent President Wilson. The information he asks will be furnished.
It was understood that General Carranza wants information of the use to which the United States plans to use the railroads, and assurances that the line is used only for furnishing sup-

Administration officials realize that Carranza is dealing with a difficult public sentiment in Mexico, that use of the railroad by American troops, unless fully understood, might lead to friction.
It is believed Carranza is favorably inclined toward the request.

Associated Press Dispatch.
El Paso, Texas, March 20.—
Villa is moving southeast toward Namiquipa, according to a telegram received by General
Gavira at Juarez today.

He reports that Carranza troops are advancing from the south, while the Americans are continuing their march from the north, in an effort to close the net around the bandit.

The request made by the United States for permission to use the Mexican railroads to transport supplies, is considered here to be of prime importance in the campaign.

A refusal will embarrass the operations of the American troops, while granting of the request will probably be seriously misconstrued by a considerable proportion of the Mexican people.

The unexpectedly rapid advance of the expeditionary column under General Pershing has necessitated an immediate renewal of the railroad ques-

Casas Grandes in their pursuit of Villa, and the American Government has replied that its troops have been ordered specifically not to occupy Casas Grandes or any other towns or cities in Mexico.

These facts became known today
after an early conference between President Wilson and acting Secretary of State Polk.

No reply has been received early today from Carranza concerning the request made by the United States for the use of Mexican railroads in transporting supplies to the expeditionary forces.

Mr. Polk declared that the United States had not requested permission to take over any Mexican railroads, but had merely asked for permission to transport supplies.

He denied emphatically that the request of the United States was in any sense a demand or an ultimatum.

Reports from Mexico today were generally optimistic.

Reports that the Government had any reliable information of plots to bring about armed intervention, were also emphatically denied by Mr. Polk.

CLASH NOT IMMINENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
San Antonio, Texas, March 20.—
Little reason to believe that a clash between the American troops and Francisco Villa and his bandits would occur today, or even tomorrow, was indicated in reports today to Major General Funston from General Pershing, commander of the expeditionary forces.

Funston's reports told the manner in which the forces are operating south of Casas Grandes.
Most of the information reaching General Pershing indicated that Villa was heading for the mountains in the Guerrero district.

Great Damage In-

Were Dropped.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 20.—A notable aerial raid was carried out early today on the German seaplane station at Zbrugge, Belgium, and the aerodrome near there, a squadron of 65
allied machines, aeroplanes and seaplanes making the attack.

The British official announcement declares that considerable damage appeared to have been done by the bombs which were dropped.

The machines carried an aggregate of about six and one half tons of these explosives, the statement indicates.

Fighting about Verdun has again
slackened, according to today's Paris statement.

The only infantry attack reported is an unsuccessful one by the Germans on the French positions on Pepper Hill, north of the fortress.

The artillery activity has been intermittent, reaching considerable violence, however, in the vicinity of Malancourt, on the west bank of the Meuse.

There is renewed activity in the Balkans north of Saloniki, a French column having advanced from the entrenched camp and occupied villages near the Greek border which Teutonic and Bulgarian forces had entered, according to news agency
advices from Saloniki.

The neutral frontier zone has now been eliminated, it appears, and the forces of the entente and Central powers are face to face along that part of the front.

A war conference of probable momentous importance is about to open in Paris, where military and political representatives of the Entente Allies are gathering.

The joint policies to be pursued by the entente in the next period of the war will be decided upon by the conference, which will be presided over by Premier Briand of France.

REP. KAHN'S AMENDMENT SHOWS POWER

Testvote to Increase
Army Indicates
House Will Join
Senate.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 20.—The proposal of Representative Kahn to increase the regular army to 220,- 000 men, an increase of 80,000 over the Administration bill, was lost in the House today by a vote of 183 to 163.

The House then proceeded to discuss other amendments to the army
bill.

Washington, March 20.—Representative Kahn's amendment to the House army bill, to make the peace strength of the army 220,000 men instead of 140,000, was taken up for two hours' debate today when the House resumed work on the measure.

As the amendment would bring the House bill up to the proposals of the Senate bill, a vote was regarded as a test of the disposition of the House to agree with the larger proposals of the Senate.

The two hours' debate was equally divided between those who favor and those who oppose the increase.
Party lines were broken down
during the debate, many Democrats and Republicans supporting the increase while members of both parties made speeches opposing it.

Chairman Chamberlain of the Senate Military Committee has declined not to call up his army bill until the House bill comes up in the Senate.

WILSON WILL SIGN BILL

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 20.—President Wilson told Congressional leadippine bill, including the Clarke amendment for independence in not later than four years, despite his disapproval of some of its details.

ROOSEVELT CONSIDERED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, March 20.—Western members of the sub-committee of the Republican National Committee which met here today to complete arrangements for the national convention, favored an immediate selection of the temporary chairman.
Ralph Williams, committeeman from Oregon, said he believed there would be less strife if the temporary chairman is named at the present session of the committee than if the selection is put off for two months.

Mr. Williams said he did not think Colonel Roosevelt was regarded seriously as a candidate for president.

Candidates for the temporary chairmanship whose names appeared in the discussion were Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Henry C.
Lodge of Massachusetts, former governor Chase Osborn of Michigan, Governor F. A. McCall of Massachusetts and Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania.

WELL BALANCED LYCEUM COURSE OF GREAT MERIT

Washington Lyceum Committee
Makes New Departure in Order
to Obtain the Best—Six Big Numbers and Still Another to
Be Added for 1916-17 Season.

The Washington Lyceum Committee has selected for the 1916-17 course, some of the best talent ever brought to the city, and in order to get the best talent, and to offer a diversified course of a character to insure each number being a real treat, purchased the course of two Bureaus, the Redpath and the Colt.

Two feature musicals, three noted lectures of widely different characteristics, and one gifted entertainer constitute the course at the present time, but it is the intention of the committee to add still another attraction of equal merit. This will be done, if conditions warrant, later in the summer.

The course will open with Elsie Baker and The Kaltenborn String Quartet—a combination appearing only on the large city courses, and one which will be a delight to all musicians and lovers of music. It is one of the highest priced attractions ever booked in this city, the committee having decided to put more money into the course this season than last. Many Washingtonians have been delighted with the singing of Elsie Baker—from Victor Talking Machine records—and they will have the opportunity of hearing her personally when she appears here with the noted Kaltenborn String Quartet which is composed of only genuine artists.

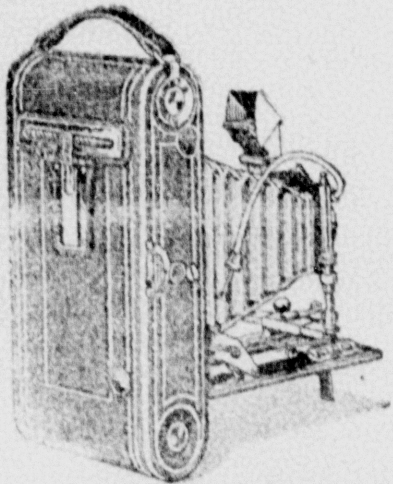

Then comes William A. Collidge, D. D., F. R. G. S.—the man who was with Explorer Stanley in darkest Africa and who knows the world like a book. "Second Fiddles," "Tropical Africa," and various other equally noted lectures are given by Dr. Collidge. However, unlike many lettered men, his lecture is anything else but "dry," being brimful of experiences and observations of a scholar and man of affairs.

Gay Zenola McLaren—that gifted genius in imitative recitals of famous plays—is one of the numbers. Miss McLaren is one of the most remarkable women in America. She possesses the power of literally absorbing the leading plays, such as "Daddy Long Legs," "Bought and Paid For," "Within the Law," and a score of kindred plays, and then giving them without having read the manuscript, imitating each character. She "gets" a play by attending its presentation on the stage, and then reproduces it to the very word and act of each character.

Next is that prince of dramatic lecturers, William Rainey Bennett, familiarly known as "The Man Who Can," and whose lectures have been a genuine inspiration to hundreds of thousands who have heard him.

Knowing the popularity of Hawaiian music, the committee booked

TORREON TROOPS CAUSE QUESTION

(By American Press)

Washington, March 20.—Strong doubt exists here as to the loyalty of the Carranza garrison at Torreon. Press reports say that outbreaks have occurred in the city between Villistas and Carranzistas, and last week United States Consul A. L. Williams left hurriedly for the border with forty American refugees. Mexicans in Washington who formerly represented Villa here predicted that Villa's purpose undoubtedly is to take Torreon garrison himself there and then depend on his agents throughout northern Mexico to stir up a storm of indignation against the entry of American troops on Mexican soil.

New York, March 20.—The first annual national assemblage of the League to Enforce Peace will be held in Washington on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27. Former President Taft, president of the league will preside. The call, which is issued over the names of 200 well known Americans, emphasizes the fact that the league was not formed to propose measures for stopping the present war, but to give expression to a plan for future world peace. The forthcoming conference is for the purpose of devising measures which would unite all nations into a league to enforce peace.

Bombs Kill Nine Persons and Maim Thirty or More.

London, March 20.—The war office issued the following statement:

"Four German seaplanes bombarded East Kent Sunday. The first pair appeared over Dover, flying at a height of between 5,000 to 6,000 feet. One machine dropped six bombs on the harbor and then went northwest, throwing bombs on the town. The other, after passing over Dover, appeared over Deal and dropped several bombs. A second pair bombarded Ramsgate. One went west and the other north, pursued by a British aeroplane. One machine dropped bombs on Margate. A second appeared over Westgate, where our aeroplanes pursued it. No bombs were dropped. The casualties so far are nine killed and thirty-one injured. As far as can be ascertained 48 bombs were dropped. One bomb fell on the Canadian hospital at Ramsgate, causing damage but no casualties. Material damage was done to several houses.

"Flight Commander Bone in a single sent aeroplane pursued the raider for thirty miles over the sea, where, after an action lasting a quarter of an hour the raider was forced to descend. The observer was killed."

At Ramsgate four children were killed. At Dover four persons lost their lives. An orphanage at Dover was struck, but the children escaped injury.

Our Common Problem

The condition of the pikes and roads of Fayette county continues to be the all important subject of discussion in the rural sections and at the county seat. Residents over the county realize the importance of keeping the lines of communication between the rural districts and the county seat open and free to travel.

Washington is peculiarly a city which depends upon the rural sections and, appreciating the magnitude and scope of the tremendous demands our very "urban" rural section makes upon the county seat markets, the merchants of the city are made, as they always have and must continue to make, ample provision to supply the demand of the local market.

The condition of the pikes and roads is one that has stolen stealthily upon us—caught all rural buyers and city merchants unaware. Not until buyers found themselves hampered in reaching their market and not until merchants realized the barriers which hinder the buying public has full realization of conditions forced itself upon all alike.

There is a mutuality of interest in arriving at the proper solution of the all important subject of bettering the roads which should, if combined with co-operation, be helpful.

Before any substantial progress is made that necessary co-operation of all interested parties must be developed, emphasized and welded into a concerted working force.

Neither urban nor rural residents can afford to leave this work to others. It is a matter in which the people are vitally interested.

There should be separate meetings and joint meetings held. The one of last Tuesday was a good start, but the follow up system should be invoked.

While the actual crisis is now passing and the roads will settle back so as not to measurably interfere with travel we should not fail to be mindful that next winter will bring conditions equally bad—worse if possible—and every effort should be made during the season of relief which is now upon us to guard against the coming of another bad season.

Verdun and Peace

The German drive for Verdun, if the present prolonged attack is significant of anything at all, has failed.

Consequently those who confidently expected the Kaiser to announce to the world upon what terms Germany would consent to peace in Europe, must look in another direction for signs of returning peace or must be content to wait longer for the promulgation of peace proposals.

Few indeed are the close observers and students who were able to predict peace proposals as the outcome of a failure of the Verdun campaign, either by Germany or by the entente allies. Germany repulsed in the attacks on Verdun is not likely to announce to the world soon any peace terms and with the allied powers holding firm to their determination to fight the war until Germany is humiliated by defeat and her army crushed, peace is not a prospect of the immediate future.

A hard fought offensive campaign by the allies during the coming summer seems to be assured. That seems to be the conclusion of those who have observed the progress of the war closely.

The opinion that the allied powers regard the failure of the German offensive at Verdun as measurably decisive is strengthened by the announcement of the French minister of war on Saturday to the effect that without being subject to the charge of being too optimistic he could announce that the end of the war could now be seen.

That announcement is significant and means that the tremendous task of humbling Germany will be pursued during the summer on offensive lines; that France, England, Belgium, Italy in the west and Russia in the north and in Asia Minor will begin a concerted forward movement with no desire for peace until Germany is overthrown.

The assertion that the central powers no longer overshadow their opponents, in military strength, as they did at the beginning of the war can no longer be disputed. The allies seem at last to be prepared and Germany and Austria have unquestionably been weakened by the terrible offensive campaigns they have conducted.

How long they will be able to continue the war on defensive lines is difficult to estimate, granting that from this time they will abandon the offensive.

Germany and Austria are by no means ready now to accept humiliating peace terms and the allies, it seems, will add no other terms.

Poetry For Today

THE BETTER PART.

Long fed on boundless hopes. O race of man,
How angrily thou spurn'st all simpler fare!
"Christ," some one says, "was human as we are;
No judge eyes us from Heaven, but sin to scan;

We live no more, when we have done our span."
"Well, then, for Christ's thou answerest, 'who can care?'"
From sin, which Heaven records not, why forbear?
Live we like brutes our life without "a plan!"

So answerest thou; but why not rather say:
"Hath man no second life?—Pitch this one high!
Sits there no judge in Heaven, our sin to see?"

More strictly, then, the inward judge obey
Was Christ a man like us? Ah, let us try
If we then, too, can be such men as He "

DODD'S MEN IN PERIL ZONE

Resentment Reported Growing in Northern Mexico Against the American Expedition — Border Raids Likely to Be Attempted by Villa Sympathizers — Government Officials Express Their Views.

Washington, March 20.—According to dispatches received here, General Pershing's "flying squadron," under Colonel Dodd, is close on the heels of General Villa.

Officials here expect at any time to hear of actual fighting, and they are also prepared to hear of raids at isolated points along the border by Villa sympathizers in an effort to prevent reinforcements being sent to Pershing's support.

Subordinate officials of the state department who have been dealing with the Mexican problem for years expressed the conviction that the present week would develop a critical situation. Reports, which high officials of the department are suppressing as being nothing more than rumors, are accumulating to show that resentment against the American expedition is steadily growing in northern Mexico. If the judgment of the subordinates of the department is to be followed the next few days will bring about a serious flare up throughout the country below the Rio Grande.

Carranza, whose attitude towards the expedition heretofore has been one of acquiescence rather than approval, has not been heard from in reply to urgent requests made on him by the state department through Ambassador Designate Arredondo here for permission for American troops to use the Mexican Northwestern railroad to transport army supplies from El Paso to Casas Grandes. In their desire to get the expedition over with as soon as possible, officials of the war department believe the use of the railroad is essential.

General Scott, it was learned, has placed at the disposal of General Pershing, through General Funston, the entire fund of $20,000 in the quartermaster general's department for the employment of scouts, spies and interpreters.

With this money General Pershing will have the means of getting guides and valuable information from friendly Mexicans in the territory through which he passes. This week General Scott will send to congress an estimate for $20,000 to replace the money sent to Pershing. Owing to the scarcity of gold in Mexico at present, army officers hope that by a liberal expenditure of the funds at his disposition General Pershing will be able to win support among the Mexicans.

Will Not Resign.

Cleveland, March 20.—J. M. H. Fredericks, superintendent of Cleveland public schools, stated definitely and formally that he would not resign, but would continue for the term for which he was elected. The board recently by unanimous vote had requested that he resign and had charged Fredericks and others prominent in city school affairs with being inefficient.

Mrs. Catt's Mission.

Columbus, March 20.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association and International Woman Suffrage alliance, arrived here this morning from New York. She will confer with suffrage leaders with a view to having delegations sent from each state to the Democratic and Republican national conventions to besiege the convention members for votes for women.

Soda Fountain Orders Modified.

Columbus, March 20.—The state board of health has modified its order that soda fountain glasses be placed in boiling water or under live steam for a period of three to five minutes. The new requirements is that the glasses be washed in hot water, treated with soap or a detergent powder. The thorough sterilization of spoons, which was included in the former order, still obtains.

To Refuse Car Men's Demands.

Cleveland, March 20.—Motormen and conductors on the Cleveland Street railway are preparing to fight for higher wages and improved conditions. President Stanley of the railway company declares he will oppose the men's demands. The streetcar men's union will ask for a wage rate of 40 cents an hour and for 90 per cent of the work days of the men to be not less than eight hours.

Preparedness Legislation Is Given Right of Way.

Washington, March 20.—Evidence of co-operation between President Wilson and congress, which may lead to an early adjournment, is seen by administration officials in the action of the senate and house in advancing preparedness legislation ahead of other bills and practically removing the European and Mexican questions from the field of debate through votes supporting the president.

Although some congressional leaders, notably Speaker Clark, say congress will be in session until fall, administration officials predicted confidently that adjournment would come late in June or early in July.

A great legislative program still awaits action. It includes the army and navy bills, a tariff commission bill, the Philippine bill, rural credit legislation, several appropriation and revenue bills, shipping legislation,

BACKING TRAIN HITS AUTO OCCUPANTS ESCAPE DEATH

Miss Geraldine Coffman and Jack DeWitt Have Miraculous Escape From Death Under B. & O. Train Sunday Night, When Train Backs Into Auto Without Warning—Machine Crushed Into Shapeless Mass.

An accident which nearly resulted in the death of Miss Geraldine Coffman and Mr. Jack DeWitt occurred at the B. & O. crossing immediately west of the D. T. & I. and C. H. & D. in this city, about 8:15 o'clock Sunday night when a P. & O. freight train which had been taking coal, ran back, striking the DeWitt car and crushing it into a shapeless mass of wreckage and painfully injuring both occupants.

The couple had gone up Water street and were headed out on Dayton avenue when the accident occurred, and according to DeWitt the freight train had been cut in two and the rear car, which stood near the road crossing, with no red light showing.

Supposing the string of cars was not attached to an engine he was crossing the track at a moderate rate of speed when the train started to back without warning. A brakeman was said to be up the track, but not at the crossing.

The backing train caught the automobile about the middle and began crushing it before it. Just what then took place is not clear, but DeWitt has a remembrance of seizing Miss Coffman to hurl her to safety. Then the machine was turned over and he lost consciousness for a few moments. When he regained consciousness the train had stopped and the automobile was a hopeless wreck some 75 feet from where it was struck, having been rolled over before the train. He was alongside the track on the south side. He found Miss Coffman lying beside the track, with her head near the rail. She believed that she was between the rails and the cars were passing over her. She, like DeWitt, had sustained painful cuts and bruises, but was not seriously injured.

According to information from Mr. DeWitt the train crew did not realize that they had struck a machine, and that the brakeman was several cars away. An employee of the B. & O. states that the brakeman was riding the rear car but was on the opposite side of the car from the side approached by the machine, and that the brakeman knew of the crash and signalled the engineer to stop, and the train stopped accordingly. The engine was several cars from the rear car. The auto was rendered almost worthless in the crash.

SAMUEL HANKINS DIES AT 94 YEARS

Samuel Hankins, for a great many years a resident of Marion township, died in the Fayette Hospital, Sunday morning at seven o'clock of infirmities of old age.

For the past four or five months Mr. Hankins has been receiving attention at the Fayette Hospital.

The remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of E. A. Klever and prepared for burial.

Funeral services will be held at Otterbein church, Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Burial in the Lloyd cemetery.

ONE HALF OF INFANT DEATHS PREVENTABLE

Research Indicates That Time Is Near at Hand When Infant Mortality Will Be Cut in Half in Every Community Where It Is Given Attention.

Interest in the coming observance of "Baby Week," the first week in April, is increasing and the event promises to be one of deep interest generally.

It will be recalled that during the community efficiency institute in this city special attention was called to the alarming death rate among infants, and the apparent need of every facility to lower the death rate.

The Census Bureau estimates that one in eight of all the babies born in the United States die before they are twelve months old. But this average does not tell the whole story, for more babies die in some districts than in others and such an average may mean that in some groups one in three of all the babies die and in others only one in twenty from the side approached by the

The Children's Bureau in the course of its intensive study of infant mortality in selected typical American communities has found within one community an infant rate varying in the different wards from one baby in twenty to about one in four.

In the light of such facts Baby Week may well assume a new importance. Baby Week aims to show the community what it owes to all its infant citizens in the way of suitable living conditions, and to show all the mothers that there is a science of baby care.

The modern movement for saving babies' lives is of recent origin in all countries. France took the lead fifty years ago in organizing community work for infant welfare with, first, a society for instructing mothers and encouraging maternal nursing, and ten years after, another society providing special care for the expectant mother. The infant welfare station was a later development for which France again deserves the credit.

Systematic all-year-round infant welfare work in New York City is only fourteen years old but these years have been marked by a steady reduction of the babies' death rate in that city. Similar results may be looked for from similar work in any community, for it is generally agreed that at least half of all infant deaths are preventable.

MRS. MARIA HEGLER SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Maria Hegler, age 84 years, widow of the late Capt. Allen Hegler, is suffering from a fractured hip, sustained Saturday when she slipped from a chair to the floor.

Owing to her age and weakened condition, the injury renders her condition serious.

OUTING COTTAGE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church, at the Sunday morning service, took up a proposition which is decidedly an innovation in Sunday school activities, at least in this section.

The proposition is to build a Presbyterian Sunday school clubhouse in the country to provide a place where classes of the school can enjoy outings either in summer or winter. Of course, the country club idea is specially attractive for summer, but the intention is to put up a summer camp which will also be adequate to winter use. Any class in the school will be welcome to enjoy it.

A committee appointed to formulate plans was composed of Os. McLehian, chairman, A. J. Thompson, Pete Rodgers, H. A. Walker, R. S. Quinn, Geo. Jackson, A. F. Hopkins, N. B. Hall, C. A. Reid, A. C. Henkle, Mr. Frank M. Fullerton and Mr. A. F. Hopkins were appointed a committee to investigate sites.

BAZAAR NETS GRATIFYING SUM

The high school Freshmen were highly successful in their sixteenth annual candy Bazaar held with the purpose of adding to the high school art collection.

The class intends to use the proceeds, which reached the gratifying net sum of $67.38, after paying expenses amounting to $39.50, in buying a statue for the main hall.

The officers are president, Edward DeWees, treasurer, Naylor Cook; secretary, Robert Reardon; executive committee, Elsie Foreman, Winifred English, Helen Baker.

A Labor of Love

The Chinese have numerous traditions concerning their famous philosopher, Confucius. One day, they say, while he was meditating in the fields outside the city of Tientsin, he noticed a woman weeping bitterly beside a fresh grave, which she was fanning vigorously. He was touched by her evident grief and said:

"Oh, sorrowful one, what is your trouble?"
"Your honorable excellency, my husband is dead."
"No doubt he was a good husband, and you are to be pitied, but why are you fanning his grave?"
"Exalted one," replied the woman, and her voice choked with sobs, "my husband made me promise not to marry again until his grave was dry."

Millinery

We've outdone ourselves this year in the matter of millinery—the styles are superb—the colorings wonderful and the assortment matchless.

Our efforts have been to show beautiful Hats at modest prices—and we have succeeded and we want you to know how well we have succeeded.

Our "Wonder Hat" at $5.00 is creating some comment among the ladies.

Ladies' Wear

You can't help but be enthused when you see these pretty things.

The sombre shades of the winter clothes have given way to the gay colorings of Spring.

The brightly colored coats, and skirts, and waists, sure do look good.

But why tell you about these—come Wednesday or Thursday or the latter part of the week and see.

Dress Goods

The Dress materials are just the essence of Spring.

The new White materials are here in variety and abundance

The Silks, of all kinds and colorings, we are showing in profusion, and as the season promises to be one in which silks predominate as a popular dress material we feel extremely fortunate in being able to show such a complete variety not only in patterns and colors, but such a price range.

FRENCH ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

(Associated Press Cable)

Berlin, March 20. — An attack made by French troops on the village of Vaux, northeast of Verdun, was repulsed with heavy losses, the War Office announces today.

The violent attacks of the Russians in the lake region on the northern part of the eastern front were continued.

The Russians charged repeatedly with strong forces, but were beaten back with large losses, the official statement declares.

FALSE ALARMS BY THE MANY HUNDREDS

The Washington fire fighting force is annoyed from five to fifty time each day by false alarms coming in—due in a small part to the fact that some people desiring to talk to some person at the Engine house, fails to remember that the number to call, unless reporting fires is 3331, and that number 16, of the automatic, is for fires alone.

The chief cause of the trouble is that there are scores of calls for "information operator," which is No. 18, or the "trouble clerk," which is 17, and that the party calling fails to dial properly and a fire alarm is turned in instead.

Time after time the automatic rings forth during the day and late into the night, and as a result the firemen are kept "on edge" much of the time, expecting with each call that it will be necessary to respond with the fire fighting apparatus.

As a kindness to the firemen, all persons liable to make the above mistakes are urged to exercise the greatest possible care.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS SERVICE

The evangelistic meetings now in progress at the Christain Church continue with much interest because of the lack of room the service was held Sunday night in the High School Auditorium. The room was filled, extra chairs were brought in and some stood throughout the service, a large chorus of nearly fifty singers occupied the platform, and were led by Mr. Troy in a great song service. A number of special selections were rendered by the chorus. A junior choir also assisted in the singing. Mr. Troy repeated by request the solo: "Jesus is My Friend," which was pleasing to all.

The subject of the sermon was "The Lordship of Christ," Rev. Groves taking for his text Phil. 2:11, "And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord."

He emphasized that Christ was our Lord in life, death, judgment and the future state. He urged that He be given pre-eminence in all things—in home, business and social relationship.

The service tonight will be held in the church. The subject announced is "The Eight Model Cases of Conversation."

UNVEILING OF ELK OCCURS THIS WEEK

At a special meeting of the Washington Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, to be held Friday night, of this week, the big Elk, which was exhibited in this city sometime ago, and which has been mounted by an expert taxidermist, will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies.

The event promises to be one of more than ordinary interest, and in addition to the unveiling, the elk's teeth, which have been polished, will be sold to the highest bidder.

PLENTY OF DRUNKS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Drunks and drinkers were very much in evidence, Saturday night, and one man is authority for the statement that in one alley a square from the court house he saw seven men, some of whom were intoxicated and in another alley in the shadow of the court house two others were noticed, while there was much evidence on the street of drinking, although no real disturbance so far as known.

The man making the complaint stated that not in recent years has whiskey been so abundant about the city as at the present time, indicating an overabundance of bootleggers.

575 ATTEND GRACE M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL

Attendance at Grace M. E. Sunday school, Sunday morning totalled 575 and efforts will be made to boost this to 650 or 700 next Sunday.

Attendance in the men's classes was 144, and this is expected to be increased to 175 or 200 next Sunday.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Wesley Chapel, Sunday afternoon.

KELLOUGH FARM CHANGES HANDS

The 250 acre farm owned by Mr. J. P. Kellough, located in Paint and Jefferson townships has been traded by Mr. Kellough for a 432 acre farm north of Urbana, and Mr. Kellough is now crating his household goods to move to his newly acquired farm.

The trade was made with Judge W. C. Keiss, of Bucyrus, Ohio, who it is understood, will either lease or sell the farm in the near future.

PETTY THIEVES ARE STILL BUSY

Petty thieving, particularly on Sunnyside, continues without interruption, and chickens, household effects and practically everything that can be carried off, are included among the missing.

The continuance of the thieving and no relief is the source of a great deal of annoyance on Sunnyside and the citizens are urging definite action to break up the practice.

MEXICANS CONCENTRATING AT JUAREZ

Associated Press Dispatch

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Carranza troops stationed at Casas Grandes and other points of that section at the time General Pershing began his march into Mexico, are now located at Juarez, opposite El Paso, and in the rear of General Pershing's columns, it was authoritatively stated today.

No reason has been assigned for the transfer of troops from points inland to the border.

From reliable sources, it is stated that a Carranza detachment allowed Villa to pass southward on receipt of a message from the bandit leader that he was not making war against Mexico.

General Gavira, the Carranza commander, who announced today that he had information that Villa was heading toward Namiquipa, said he knew nothing of the American troops except that they are hard on the chase.

He says he has no details of Carranza troops co-operating in the movement.

General Gavira's latest advices today indicate that a clash between Villa's troops and Carranza forces is imminent.

USE OF MEXICAN RAILROADS IS PROBLEM

Replying to War Department's Request to Use All Railroads to Move Supplies, Carranza Asks for Complete Information.

Washington Realizing Difficult Task of "First Chief," Will Furnish All Information Desired.

Villa Moves Southeast While Carranza Troops Advancing Gradually Tighten the Web.

Associated Press Dispatch. Washington, March 20.—General Carranza today replied to the American request for use of Mexican railroad lines for movement of supplies to the punitive expedition as a request for more complete information as to exactly what the War Department wants.

General Carranza's reply was sent President Wilson. The information he asks will be furnished. It was understood that General Carranza wants information of the extent to which the United States expects to use the railroads, and possibly assurances that the line is used only for furnishing supplies.

Administration officials realize Carranza is dealing with a difficult public sentiment in Mexico, that use of the railroad by Carranza troops, unless fully understood, might lead to friction. It is believed Carranza is favorably inclined toward the request.

Associated Press Dispatch. El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Villa is moving southeast toward Namiquipa, according to a telegram received by General Gavira at Juarez today.

He reports that Carranza troops are advancing from the south, while the Americans are continuing their march from the north, in an effort to close the net around the bandit.

The request made by the United States for permission to use the Mexican railroads to transport supplies, is considered here to be of prime importance in the campaign.

A refusal will embarrass the operations of the American troops, while granting of the request will probably be seriously misconstrued by a considerable proportion of the Mexican people.

The unexpectedly rapid advance of the expeditionary columns under General Pershing necessitated an immediate settlement of the railroad question.

Casas Grandes in their pursuit of Villa, and the American Government has replied that its troops have been ordered specifically not to occupy Casas Grandes or any other towns or cities in Mexico.

These facts became known today after an early conference between President Wilson and acting Secretary of State Polk.

No reply has been received early today from Carranza concerning the request made by the United States for the use of Mexican railroads in transporting supplies to the expeditionary forces.

Mr. Polk declared that the United States had not requested permission to take over any Mexican railroads, but had merely asked for permission to transport supplies.

He denied emphatically that the request of the United States was in any sense a demand or an ultimatum.

Reports from Mexico today were generally optimistic.

Reports that the Government had any reliable information of plots to bring about armed intervention, were also emphatically denied by Mr. Polk.

CLASH NOT IMMINENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Antonio, Texas, March 20.—Little reason to believe that a clash between the American troops and Francisco Villa and his bandits would occur today, or even tomorrow, was indicated in reports today to Major General Funston from General Pershing, commander of the expeditionary forces.

Funston's reports told the manner in which the forces are operating south of Casas Grandes. Most of the information reaching General Pershing indicated that Villa was heading for the mountains in the Guerrero district.

Great Damage Inflicted on German Aerodomes Upon Which the Bombs Were Dropped.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 20.—A notable aerial raid was carried out early today on the German seaplane station at Zebbrugge, Belgium, and the aerodrome near there, a squadron of 65 allied machines, aeroplanes and seaplanes making the attack.

The British official announcement declares that considerable damage appeared to have been done by the bombs which were dropped.

"The machines carried an aggregate of about six and one half tons of these explosives, the statement indicates.

Fighting about Verdun has again slackened, according to today's Paris statement.

The only infantry attack reported is an unsuccessful one by the Germans on the French positions on Pepper Hill, north of the fortress.

The artillery activity has been intermittent, reaching considerable violence, however, in the vicinity of Malancourt, on the west bank of the Meuse.

There is renewed activity in the Balkans north of Saloniki, a French column having advanced from the entrenched camp and occupied villages near the Greek border which Teutonic and Bulgarian forces had entered, according to news agency advices from Saloniki.

The neutral frontier zone has now been eliminated, it appears, and the forces of the entente and Central powers are face to face along that part of the front.

A war conference of probable momentous importance is about to open in Paris, where military and political representatives of the Entente Allies are gathering.

The joint policies to be pursued by the entente in the next period of the war will be decided upon by the conference, which will be presided over by Premier Briand of France.

REP. KAHN'S AMENDMENT SHOWS POWER

Testvote to Increase Army Indicates House Will Join Senate.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 20.—The proposal of Representative Kahn to increase the regular army to 220,000 men, an increase of 80,000 over the Administration bill, was lost in the House today by a vote of 183 to 163.

The House then proceeded to discuss other amendments to the army bill.

Washington, March 20.—Representative Kahn's amendment to the House army bill, to make the peace strength of the army 220,000 men instead of 140,000, was taken up for two hours' debate today when the House resumed work on the measure.

As the amendment would bring the House bill up to the proposals of the Senate bill, a vote was regarded as a test of the disposition of the House to agree with the larger proposals of the Senate.

The two hours' debate was equally divided between those who favor and those who oppose the increase. Party lines were broken down during the debate, many Democrats and Republicans supporting the increase while members of both parties made speeches opposing it.

Chairman Chamberlain of the Senate Military Committee has decided not to call up his army bill until the House bill comes up in the Senate.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, March 20.—President Wilson told Congressional leaders today that he will sign the Philippine bill, including the Clarke amendment for independence in not later than four years, despite his disapproval of some of its details.

ROOSEVELT CONSIDERED

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Chicago, March 20.—Western members of the sub-committee of the Republican National Committee which met here today to complete arrangements for the national convention, favored an immediate selection of the temporary chairman.

Ralph Williams, committeeman from Oregon, said he believed there would be less strife if the temporary chairman is named at the present session of the committee than if the selection is put off for two months.

Mr. Williams said he did not think Colonel Roosevelt was regarded seriously as a candidate for president.

Candidates for the temporary chairmanship whose names appeared in the discussion were Senator Borah of Idaho, Senator Henry C. Lodge of Massachusetts, former governor Chase Osborn of Michigan, Governor F. A. McCall of Massachusetts and Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania.

TAYNOR FREED BY TRIAL COURT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, March 20.—Harland Taynor, facing a prison term at the Mansfield reformatory, was saved by telegraph today.

Judge Dillon of the Criminal Court telegraphed to Mansfield and intercepted a deputy sheriff who was on his way to the reformatory with Taynor.

Judge Dillon had decided to release Taynor on a suspended sentence when he learned that Jesse Clarke, who was arrested for the same crime as Taynor, had been released on a suspended sentence.

TWO SHIPS ARE SUNK

(Associated Press Cable)

London, March 20.—The sinking of a neutral and a British steamer with the loss of one or more lives, was announced today.

The Norwegian steamer Laugelie was sunk and her engineer was killed. Sixteen survivors were rescued.

The British steamer sunk was the Fort Dalhousie. Her mate, pilot and five men were landed. The remaining members of the crew are missing.

"TOM" TAGGART NAMED SENATOR

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Indianapolis, March 20.—Thomas Taggart, Democratic National Committeeman, was appointed United States Senator today by Governor Raab, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Benjamin F. Shively. Mr. Taggart expects to leave for Washington immediately.

The new senator has been prominent in politics in Indiana for 25 years, and has maintained the leadership of the Democratic party practically all of that time.

The only offices he has ever held were county auditor, for two terms, and mayor of Indianapolis, for three terms.

WELL BALANCED LYCEUM COURSE OF GREAT MERIT

Washington Lyceum Committee
Makes New Departure in Order
to Obtain the Best—Six Big Numbers and Still Another to
Be Added for 1916-17 Season.

The Washington Lyceum Committee has selected for the 1916-17 course, some of the best talent ever brought to the city, and in order to get the best talent, and to offer a diversified course of a character to insure each number being a real treat, purchased the course of two Bureaus, the Redpath and the Colt.

Two feature musicals, three noted lectures of widely different characteristics, and one gifted entertainer constitute the course at the present time, but it is the intention of the committee to add still another attraction of equal merit. This will be done, if conditions warrant, later in the summer.

The course will open with Elsie Baker and The Kaltenborn String Quartet—a combination appearing only on the large city courses, and one which will be a delight to all musicians and lovers of music. It is one of the highest priced attractions ever booked in this city, the committee having decided to put more money into the course this season than last. Many Washingtonians have been delighted with the singing of Elsie Baker—from Victor Talking Machine records—and they will have the opportunity of hearing her personally when she appears here with the noted Kaltenborn String Quartet which is composed of only genuine artists.

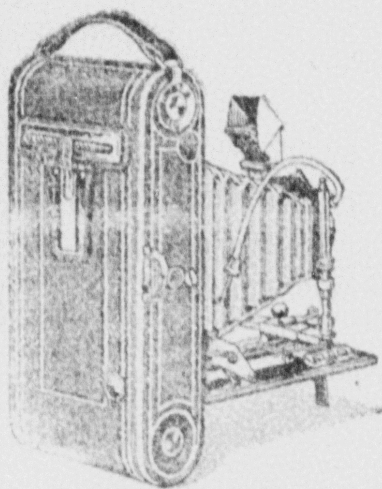

Then comes William A. Colledge, D. D., F. R. G. S.—the man who was with Explorer Stanley in darkest Africa and who knows the world like a book. "Second Fiddles," "Tropical Africa," and various other equally noted lectures are given by Dr. Colledge. However, unlike many lettered men, his lecture is anything else but "dry," being brimful of experiences and observations of a scholar and man of affairs.

Gay Zenola MacLaren—that gifted genius in imitative recitals of famous plays—is one of the numbers. Miss MacLaren is one of the most remarkable women in America. She possesses the power of literally absorbing the leading plays, such as "Daddy Long Legs," "Bought and Paid For," "Within the Law," and a score of kindred plays, and then giving them without having read the manuscript, imitating each character. She "gets" a play by attending its presentation on the stage, and then reproduces it to the very word and act of each character.

Next is that prince of dramatic lecturers, William Rainey Bennett, familiarly known as "The Man Who Can," and whose lectures have been a genuine inspiration to hundreds of thousands who have heard him.

Knowing the popularity of Hawaiian music, the committee booked

TORREON TROOPS CAUSE QUESTION

(By American Press)

Washington, March 20.—Strong doubt exists here as to the loyalty of the Carranza garrison at Torreon. Press reports say that outbreaks have occurred in the city between Villistas and Carranzistas, and last week United States Consul A. L. Williams left hurriedly for the border with forty American refugees. Mexicans in Washington who formerly represented Villa here predicted that Villa's purpose undoubtedly is to take Torreon garrison himself there and then depend on his agents throughout northern Mexico to stir up a storm of indignation against the entry of American troops on Mexican soil.

(By American Press)

New York, March 20.—The first annual national assemblage of the League to Enforce Peace will be held in Washington on Friday and Saturday, May 26 and 27. Former President Taft, president of the league will preside. The call, which is issued over the names of 200 well known Americans, emphasizes the fact that the league was not formed to propose measures for stopping the present war, but to give expression to a plan for future world peace. The forthcoming conference is for the purpose of devising measures which would unite all nations into a league to enforce peace.

Bombs Kill Nine Persons and Maim Thirty or More.

London, March 20.—The war office issued the following statement:

"Four German seaplanes bombarded East Kent Sunday. The first pair appeared over Dover, flying at a height of between 5,000 to 6,000 feet. One machine dropped six bombs on the harbor and then went northwest, throwing bombs on the town. The other, after passing over Dover, appeared over Deal and dropped several bombs. A second pair bombarded Ramsgate. One went west and the other north, pursued by a British aeroplane. One machine dropped bombs on Margate. A second appeared over Westgate, where our aeroplanes pursued it. No bombs were dropped. The casualties so far are nine killed and thirty-one injured. As far as can be ascertained 48 bombs were dropped. One bomb fell on the Canadian hospital at Ramsgate, causing damage but no casualties. Material damage was done to several houses.

"Flight Commander Bone in a single seat aeroplane pursued the raider for thirty miles over the sea, where, after an action lasting a quarter of an hour the raider was forced to descend. The observer was killed."

At Ramsgate four children were killed. At Dover four persons lost their lives. An orphanage at Dover was struck, but the children escaped injury.

Our Common Problem

The condition of the pikes and roads of Fayette county continues to be the all important subject of discussion in the rural sections and at the county seat. Residents all over the county realize the importance of keeping the lines of communication between the rural districts and the county seat open and free to travel.

Washington is peculiarly a city which depends upon the rural sections and, appreciating the magnitude and scope of the tremendous demands our very "urban" rural section makes upon the county seat markets, the merchants of the city have made, as they always have and must continue to make, ample provision to supply the demand of the local market.

The condition of the pikes and roads is one that has stolen unthinkingly upon us—caught all rural buyers and city merchants unaware. Not until buyers found themselves hampered in reaching their market and not until merchants realized the barriers which hinder the buying public has full realization of conditions forced itself upon all alike.

There is a mutuality of interest in arriving at the proper solution of the all important subject of bettering the roads which should, if combined with co-operation, be helpful.

Before any substantial progress is made that necessary co-operation of all interested parties must be developed, emphasized and welded into a concerted working force.

Neither urban nor rural residents can afford to leave this work to others. It is a matter in which the people are vitally interested.

There should be separate meetings and joint meetings held. The one of last Tuesday was a good start, but the following system should be invoked.

While the actual crisis is now passing and the roads will settle back so as not to measurably interfere with travel we should not fail to be mindful that next winter will bring conditions equally bad—worse if possible—and every effort should be made during the season of relief which is now upon us to guard against the coming of another bad season.

Verdun and Peace

The German drive for Verdun, if the present prolonged attack in the attack is significant of anything at all, has failed.

Consequently those who confidently expected the Kaiser to announce to the world upon what terms Germany would consent to peace in Europe, must look in another direction for news of returning peace or must be content to wait longer for the promulgation of peace proposals.

Few indeed are the close observers and students who were able to predict peace proposals as the outcome of a failure of the Verdun campaign, either by Germany or by the entente allies. Germany repulsed in the attacks on Verdun is not likely to announce to the world soon any peace terms and with the allied powers holding firm to their determination to fight the war until Germany is humiliated by defeat and her army crushed, peace is not a prospect of the immediate future.

A hard fought offensive campaign by the allies during the coming summer seems to be assured. That seems to be the conclusion of those who have observed the progress of the war closely.

The opinion that the allied powers regard the failure of the German offensive at Verdun as measurably decisive is strengthened by the announcement of the French minister of war on Saturday to the effect that without being subject to the charge of being too optimistic he could announce that the end of the war could now be seen.

That announcement is significant and means that the tremendous task of humbling Germany will be pursued during the summer on offensive lines, that France, England, Belgium, Italy in the west and Russia in the north and in Asia Minor will begin a concerted forward movement with no desire for peace until Germany is overthrown.

The assertion that the central powers no longer over-look their opponents, in military strength, as they did at the beginning of the war can no longer be disputed. The allies seem at last to be prepared and Germany and Austria have unquestionably been weakened by the terrible offensive campaigns they have conducted.

How long they will be able to continue the war on defensive lines is difficult to estimate, granting that from this time on they will abandon the offensive.

Germany and Austria are by no means ready now to accept humiliating peace terms and the allies, it seems, will add no other terms.

Poetry For Today

THE BETTER PART.

Long fed on boundless hopes, O race of man,
How angrily thou spurn'st all simpler fare!
"Christ," some one says, "was human as we are;
No judge eyes us from Heaven, but sin to scan;
We live no more, when we have done our span."
"Well, then, for Christ's thou answerest, 'who can care?'"
From sin, which Heaven records not, why forbear?
Live we like brutes our life without "a plan!"
So answerest thou; but why not rather say:
"Hath man no second life?—Pitch this one high!"
Sits there no judge in Heaven, our sin to see?
More strictly, then, the inward judge obey
Was Christ a man like us? Ah, let us try
If we then, too, can be such men as He!"
—Matthew Arnold.

CLOSING THE NET ON VILLA

American Troops on the Heels of General Villa.

DODD'S MEN IN PERIL ZONE

Resentment Reported Growing in Northern Mexico Against the American Expedition — Border Raids Likely to Be Attempted by Villa Sympathizers — Government Officials Express Their Views.

Washington, March 20.—According to dispatches received here, General Pershing's "flying squadron," under Colonel Dodd, is close on the heels of General Villa.

Officials here expect at any time to hear of actual fighting, and they are also prepared to hear of raids at isolated points along the border by Villa sympathizers in an effort to prevent reinforcements being sent to Pershing's support.

Subordinate officials of the state department who have been dealing with the Mexican problem for years expressed the conviction that the present week would develop a critical situation. Reports, which high officials of the department are suppressing as being nothing more than rumors, are accumulating to show that resentment against the American expedition is steadily growing in northern Mexico. If the judgment of the subordinates of the department is to be followed the next few days will bring about a serious flare up throughout the country below the Rio Grande.

Carranza, whose attitude towards the expedition heretofore has been one of acquiescence rather than approval, has not been heard from in reply to urgent requests made on him by the state department through Ambassador Designate Arredondo here for permission for American troops to use the Mexican Northwestern railroad to transport army supplies from El Paso to Casas Grandes. In their desire to get the expedition over with as soon as possible, officials of the war department believe the use of the railroad is essential.

General Scott, it was learned, has placed at the disposal of General Pershing, through General Funston, the entire fund of $20,000 in the quartermaster general's department for the employment of scouts, spies and interpreters.

With this money General Pershing will have the means of getting guides and valuable information from friendly Mexicans in the territory through which he passes. This week General Scott will send to congress an estimate for $23,000 to replace the money sent to Pershing. Owing to the scarcity of gold in Mexico at present, army officers hope that by a liberal expenditure of the funds at his disposition General Pershing will be able to win support among the Mexicans.

Xenia Woman Appointed.
Columbus, March 20.—Mrs. Minette A. Fritts of Xenia has been appointed by the state civil service commission as chief matron at the Marysville reformatory at a salary of $1,300 and maintenance, to serve under Mrs. Louise Mittendorf of Dayton, recently appointed superintendent of the institution.

Fatally Hurt in Runaway.
Delaware, O., March 20.—David Watkins, Radner farmer, was probably fatally injured in a runaway accident. Watkins had driven to the station to meet his wife, when his horse became frightened at a passing freight train on the Hoeking Valley and suddenly whirling dashed into the moving train.

Will Not Resign.
Cleveland, March 20.—J. M. H. Fredericks, superintendent of Cleveland public schools, stated definitely and formally that he would not resign, but would continue for the term for which he was elected. The board recently by unanimous vote had requested that he resign and had charged Fredericks and others prominent in city school affairs with being inefficient.

Mrs. Catt's Mission.
Columbus, March 20.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association and International Woman Suffrage alliance, arrived here this morning from New York. She will confer with suffrage leaders with a view to having delegations sent from each state to the Democratic and Republican national conventions to beseege the convention members for votes for women.

Soda Fountain Orders Modified.
Columbus, March 20.—The state board of health has modified its order that soda fountain glasses be placed in boiling water or under live steam for a period of three to five minutes. The new requirements is that the glasses be washed in hot water, treated with soap or a detergent powder. The thorough sterilization of spoons, which was included in the former order, still obtains.

To Refuse Car Men's Demands.
Cleveland, March 20.—Motormen and conductors on the Cleveland Street railways are preparing to fight for higher wages and improved conditions. President Stanley of the railway company declares he will oppose the men's demands. The streetcar men's union will ask for a wage rate of 40 cents an hour and for 90 per cent of the work days of the men to be not less than eight hours.

Preparedness Legislation Is Given Right of Way.

Washington, March 20.—Evidence of co-operation between President Wilson and congress which may lead to an early adjournment, is seen by administration officials in the action of the senate and house in advancing preparedness legislation ahead of other bills and practically removing the European and Mexican questions from the field of debate through votes supporting the president.

Although some congressional leaders, notably Speaker Clark, say congress will be in session until fall, administration officials predicted confidently that adjournment would come late in June or early in July.

A great legislative program still awaits action. It includes the army and navy bills, a tariff commission bill, the Philippine bill, rural credit legislation, several appropriation and revenue bills, shipping legislation,

BACKING TRAIN HITS AUTO OCCUPANTS ESCAPE DEATH

Miss Geraldine Coffman and Jack DeWitt Have Miraculous Escape From Death Under B. & O. Train Sunday Night, When Train Backs Into Auto Without Warning—Machine Crushed Into Shapeless Mass.

An accident which nearly resulted in the death of Miss Geraldine Coffman and Mr. Jack DeWitt occurred at the B. & O. crossing immediately west of the D. T. & I. and C. H. & D. in this city, about 8:15 o'clock Sunday night when a P. & O. freight train which had been taking coal, ran back, striking the DeWitt car and crushing it into a shapeless mass of wreckage and painfully injuring both occupants.

The couple had gone up Water street and were headed out on Dayton avenue when the accident occurred, and according to DeWitt the freight train had been cut in twain and the rear car, which stood near the road crossing, with no red light showing.

Supposing the string of cars was not attached to an engine he was crossing the track at a moderate rate of speed when the train started to back without warning. A brakeman was said to be up the track but not at the crossing.

The backing train caught the automobile about the middle and began crushing it before it. Just what then took place is not clear, but DeWitt has a remembrance of seizing Miss Coffman to hurl her to safety. Then the machine was turned over and he lost consciousness for a few moments. When he regained consciousness the train had stopped and the automobile was a hopeless wreck some 75 feet from where it was struck, having been rolled over before the train. He was alongside the track on the south side. He found Miss Coffman lying beside the track, with her head near the rail. She believing that she was between the rails and the cars were passing over her. She, like DeWitt, had sustained painful cuts and bruises, but was not seriously injured.

According to information from Mr. DeWitt the train crew did not realize that they had struck a machine, and that the brakeman was several cars away. An employee of the B. & O. states that the brakeman was riding the rear car but was on the opposite side of the car from the side approached by the machine, and that the brakeman knew of the crash and signalled the engineer to stop, and the train stopped accordingly. The engine was several cars from the rear car. The auto was rendered almost worthless in the crash.

SAMUEL HANKINS DIES AT 94 YEARS

Samuel Hankins, for a great many years a resident of Marion township, died in the Fayette Hospital, Sunday morning at seven o'clock of infirmities of old age.

For the past four or five months Mr. Hankins has been receiving attention at the Fayette Hospital.

The remains were taken to the undertaking parlors of E. A. Klever and prepared for burial.

Funeral services will be held at Otterbein church, Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Burial in the Lloyd cemetery.

ONE HALF OF INFANT DEATHS PREVENTABLE

Research Indicates That Time Is Near at Hand When Infant Mortality Will Be Cut in Half in Every Community Where It Is Given Attention.

Interest in the coming observance of "Baby Week," the first week in April, is increasing and the event promises to be one of deep interest generally.

It will be recalled that during the community efficiency institute in this city special attention was called to the alarming death rate among infants, and the apparent need of every facility to lower the death rate.

The Census Bureau estimates that one in eight of all the babies born in the United States die before they are twelve months old. But this average does not tell the whole story, for more babies die in some districts than in others and such an average may mean that in some groups one in three of all the babies die and in others only one in twenty live.

The Children's Bureau in the course of its intensive study of infant mortality in selected typical American communities has found within one community an infant rate varying in the different wards from one baby in twenty to about one in four.

In the light of such facts Baby Week may well assume a new importance. Baby Week aims to show the community what it owes to all its infant citizens in the way of suitable living conditions, and to show all the mothers that there is a science of baby care.

The modern movement for saving babies' lives is of recent origin in all countries. France took the lead fifty years ago in organizing community work for infant welfare with, first, a society for instructing mothers and encouraging maternal nursing, and ten years after, another society providing special care for the expectant mother. The infant welfare station was a later development for which France again deserves the credit.

Systematic all-year-round infant welfare work in New York City is only fourteen years old but these years have been marked by a steady reduction of the babies' death rate in that city. Similar results may be looked for from similar work in any community, for it is generally agreed that at least half of all infant deaths are preventable.

MRS. MARIA HEGLER SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Maria Hegler, age 84 years, widow of the late Capt. Allen Hegler, is suffering from a fractured hip, sustained Saturday when she slipped from a chair to the floor.

Mrs. Hegler was recovering from a long illness, and the trained nurse had left a few days before.

Owing to her age and weakened condition, the injury renders her condition serious.

OUTING COTTAGE FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS

The Men's Bible Class of the First Presbyterian church, at the Sunday morning service, took up a proposition which is decidedly an innovation in Sunday school activities, at least in this section.

The proposition is to build a Presbyterian Sunday school clubhouse in the country to provide a place where classes of the school can enjoy outings either in summer or winter. Of course, the country club idea is specially attractive for summer, but the intention is to put up a summer camp which will also be adequate to winter use. Any class in the school will be welcome to enjoy it.

A committee appointed to formulate plans was composed of Os. McLeilan, chairman, A. J. Thompson, Pete Rodgers, H. A. Walker, R. S. Quinn, Geo. Jackson, A. F. Hopkins, N. B. Hall, C. A. Reid, A. C. Henkle, Mr. Frank M. Fullerton and Mr. A. F. Hopkins were appointed a committee to investigate sites.

BAZAAR NETS GRATIFYING SUM

The high school Freshmen were highly successful in their sixteenth annual candy Bazaar held with the purpose of adding to the high school art collection.

The class intends to use the proceeds, which reached the gratifying net sum of $67.38, after paying expenses amounting to $39.50, in buying a statue for the main hall.

The officers are president, Edward DeWees, treasurer, Naylor Cook; secretary, Robert Reardon; executive committee, Elsie Foreman, Winifred English, Helen Baker.

A Labor of Love

The Chinese have numerous traditions concerning their famous philosopher, Confucius. One day, they say, while he was meditating in the fields outside the city of Tientsin, he noticed a woman weeping bitterly beside a fresh grave, which she was fanning vigorously. He was touched by her evident grief and said:

"Oh, sorrowful one, what is your trouble?"
"Your honorable excellency, my husband is dead."
"No doubt he was a good husband, and you are to be pitied, but why are you fanning his grave?"
"Exalted one," replied the woman, and her voice choked with sobs, "my husband made me promise not to marry again until his grave was dry."

PERSHING PUSHES ON IN PURSUIT

Following Trail Villa Took
In His Retreat.

GENERAL DIVIDES FORCES

Hopes to Capture Villa and His Band Between Two Columns — Bandit Chief Reported in the Vicinity of Babicora Ranch—Speculation Rife as to Villa's Intentions—News From the Border.

El Paso, Tex., March 20.—According to information reaching here from across the border, General John J. Pershing, commanding the American expedition into Mexico, has divided his forces in the hope of catching Villa between them.

General Pershing left Casas Grandes for the south, heading for Pearson. He is said to have camped last night in the mountains south of Pearson.

The column under command of Colonel G. A. Dodd, which reached Casas Grandes ahead of General Pershing, was sent southeast through Chocolate pass, and is following the trail which the Carranzistas declare Villa took in his retreat south.

General Pershing's reported plan is to march his own force south parallel with the Mexico Northwestern railroad, hoping to meet or overtake the bandit leader, who has passed through the Continental divide over the Babicora trail from Las Cruces. Colonel Dodd is expected to keep on the trail of the bandit and his men either through the Continental divide or south from Las Cruces through Nami quipa toward Guerrero.

The best information obtainable is that Villa is in the vicinity of Babicora ranch, having passed through the mountains forming the Continental divide without molestation by the Carranza troops. In his haste Villa is reported to have abandoned Pablo Lopez, one of his lieutenants, wounded in the raid on Columbus, N. M., at El Valle, when he passed through that place. Lopez was the man who commanded the Mexican force that massacred eighteen Americans at Santa Ysabel in January. A few days later, the Carranzistas exhibited the corpse of a man in Juarez which they claimed was that of Lopez, but which Americans who knew Lopez declared was the corpse of another man.

Cause of Speculation.

There is much speculation as to the plans of Villa. The Carranzistas profess to believe that he will break up his force into small bands and scatter through the mountains, but there is belief in some quarters that he is either heading south in an effort to form a junction with Zapata or will turn west in an effort to reach the Mexican Pacific coast and get as far as possible from the American border. It is understood that the American forces are convinced that the Carranzistas are making very little effort to capture Villa, many of the Carranza troops being former Villistas, still in sympathy with Villa, and many of the others being afraid to meet him in battle.

The news from the Pershing column stated that some of the horses and mules of the American expedition artillery force had perished or been abandoned on the trip from Columbus to Casas Grandes, but that, on the whole, the men and animals withstood the march exceedingly well. Only cavalry and artillery reached Casas Grandes, according to late advices, which would confirm the theory that the infantry taken with General Pershing had been distributed along the line of march to keep open the lines of communication for the supply trains.

Information was received by the Pershing column. It is reported that Villa rallied some of the American Mormon colonies and killed some of the inhabitants. At the border it is declared that this is not true.

All the American colonies were west of the Continental divide and directly south or southwest of Casas Grandes. The direction taken by General Pershing and his force leads in the direction south—toward the border before the Modern and Groce revolutions thrust them out of the valleys south and northeast of Casas Grandes. Bishop P. B. Horst, who is representing the Mormon interests in El Paso, says all the information he has from the colonies is that they are safe.

VILLA TRAPPED

El Paso, Tex., March 20.—Francisco Villa has been driven into a trap by the rapid advance of the American troops, according to the information received here in wireless dispatches from the front and in telegraphic dispatches to General Gabriel Gavira, the Carranza commander at Juarez. The bandit chief is said to be hemmed in on all sides. He is reported near the Babicora lake region, on the ranch of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst.

NEWS TO HIM

(By American Press)

New York, March 20.—J. P. Morgan reached New York on the American liner Philadelphia. He observed impenetrable silence as to his mission abroad. From the time the liner came into quarantine he was guarded in his state room, and when it came time to land he slipped unnoticed down the crew's gang plank and entered his automobile with his wife and servants.

Mr. Morgan asserted that he knew of no new loan to the allies being contemplated now and asserted that the resources created by the last loan were not exhausted, supporting his assertion by references to the steadiness of the exchange market.

As to the reported mobilizing in London of American securities held in Great Britain and France, Mr. Morgan said: "I understand they expect to handle these securities as they have been doing in the past and they will be taken care of in a way that will not hurt the market."

WANT GUARDS

(By American Press)

Washington, March 20.—Franklin appeal was made to the war department by the people of Presidio, Tex., for additional troops to protect them from a threatened Villista raid at that point. The telegram stated that Carranza scouts coming into the Mexican town of Ojinaga, opposite Presidio, have reported a force of 135 Villistas eighty miles south, who were burning ranches and committing all kinds of depredations. Leaders of the band, so the scouts report, are boasting of their intention to "wipe out the Gringos" at Presidio and give the residents of that town a taste of what happened a few days ago at Columbus, N. M. The band is believed to be operating independently of the main Villista force. General Scott at once wired the contents of the telegram to General Funston at San Antonio.

"AGIN IT"

(By American Press)

New York, March 20.—Amos R. T. Pinchot declared before the Bronx open forum that militarism does not consist in the possession of a great army and navy, but the state of mind which goes with military establishments. "The most vicious element in the preparedness campaign," he said, "worse even than the proposal of universal military service, is the plan to start military training in our schools. To take a boy at the age when he is most impressionable and instill in him the ideas of subservience to autocracy and the duty to fight when he is told to, right or wrong, is to take away from him his independence of thought, his usefulness as a citizen, and especially his integrity of character."

RIVER TRAGEDY

(By American Press)

Point Pleasant, W. Va., March 20.—Mayor Walter H. Cossin, former state senator and a leader of the liquor forces in this state, was drowned in the Ohio river. Cossin was riding about the river in his motor boat, accompanied by J. C. Fowler and Clinton Pivener. Near Gallipolis the engine became disabled and Fowler went ashore to obtain needed tools. When he returned Cossin and Pivener were missing. It was believed both had drowned till it was ascertained Pivener had been seen leaving the boat. Cossin is supposed to have slipped from the key deck of the boat.

THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales slip.

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who made it.

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business.

It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant.

It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.

THE GIRL AND THE GAME

A Story of Mountain Railroad Life

by FRANK H. SPEARMAN

Copyright 1915 by Frank H. Spearman

Novelized From the Moving Picture Play of the Same Name Produced by the Signal Film Corporation.

SYNOPSIS.

Little Helen Holmes, daughter of General Holmes, railroad man, rescued from imminent danger on a scenic railroad by George Storm, a newsboy. Grown to womanhood Helen saves Storm, now a promoter, her father, and his friends Amos Rhineland, financier, and John Seagrue, promoter, from a threatened collision. Safebreakers employed by Seagrue steal General Holmes' survey plans of the cut-off line for the Tidewater, finally wound the general and escape. Her father's estate badly involved by his death, Helen goes to work on the Tidewater. Seagrue uses Spike to set fire to a passenger train hauled by Storm's engine. Helen saves Storm from a horrible death. Helen recovers the survey plans from Seagrue, and though they are taken from her, she accidentally made proof of the survey blueprint. Storm, employed by Rhineland, wins a fight with Seagrue's men for possession of a consignment of railroad ties. Spike and his confederate safebreakers steal Rhineland's pay-roll money. Helen pursues and, with a policeman's aid, captures two of them and recovers the money.

"SPIKE'S AWAKENING"

Resolved to get completely away from the constant interruptions in his work, Amos Rhineland replaced his burned camp with outfit cars and moved at once to the end of his construction work, now well advanced on the desert.

The new equipment was as complete as money and energy could suggest. And no sooner were the cars out on a spur at Baird—near the end of the new line—than linemen were busy making telegraphic connections for them with the Tidewater system. The moment the wiring was done Storm suggested the first message over the new line ought to go to Helen, who had now been transferred from Signal to Las Vegas, a division station below Baird. Rhineland was pleased with the suggestion and Storm wrote out a telegram. The operator sounded Helen's call, and after a moment announced she was on the wire taking Storm's message. It read:

Rhineland says contracts on Number Nineteen. Bring them up Sunday. Storm will meet train here and drive you over to camp.

Seagrue, during this time, had already made counter-dispositions to meet Rhineland's arrangements and had established a secondary headquarters at Las Vegas, where he controlled an icing concession.

Spike had been laggard in following Seagrue up the line as directed, and the latter sent as many unpleasant messages as he could to Oceanside, where Spike was in retreat. But as Seagrue's continuing summons grew more and more peremptory Spike was obliged to take notice and get under way for the desert himself.

Leaving Oceanside the night after a carouse, he woke next morning as the train was pulling into a desert town strange to his eyes. Somewhat muddled, anyway, and being unable to recognize his surroundings, he asked a fellow passenger the name of the place; but he forgot it the moment he heard it. However, on scanning closely the appearance of the block of crude buildings facing the station, he reached the conclusion it would be a good place to supply at least one of his needs, and forthwith hastened from the coach to the nearest corner grocery. Once inside the place, his attention was held for a moment by a rambling discussion carried on by a group of early morning loafers. Spike, never happy outside a wrangle, struck unhesitatingly into the talk, which was concerning how loud Caruso could sing, and disputed practically every statement advanced by anybody. After prolonged loss of sleep in the city and with nerves none too amiable at best, now shattered by drink, he was in an exceptionally surly state, and before he knew it had a fist fight on his hands. The brawl was short. The three or four whom he had angered set on him together and, making a job of it, threw him bodily out on the sidewalk. One of the party proved Samaritan enough to follow him out and hand him his cap and a letter he had stuck inside it before leaving Oceanside to read at his leisure. After putting the note away he had forgotten all about it, and opening it now, found another savage summons from Seagrue bidding him come to 116 Sloan alley, Las Vegas, at once.

INCORPORATING HUMAN NATURE IN PHOTO-PLAYS

GEORGE FITZMAURICE, PATHE PRODUCER, REVEALS SECRET ART OF EFFECTIVE DIRECTING

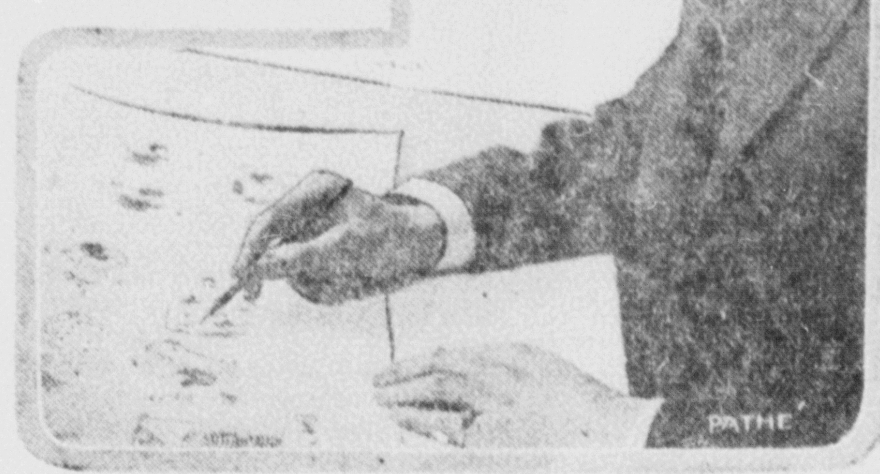

AN INFINITUDE OF DETAIL

Aptitude Must Be Inborn for the Cinema Drama Has Its Unique Rules, Technique and Psychology.

Coming from a director who has proved his theories by practical application and demonstrated their truth by a record of a series of productions without a failure, these ideas of George Fitzmaurice, the Pathe producer, on photoplay directing, are well worthy of serious consideration. He says:

"The right and proper direction of a photo-drama is necessarily as much of an art as painting, sculpture or any of the other arts. It has its rules, its technique, its composition and, above all, its psychology, and it is this latter phase of the subject that

Famous Artist Turns His Talent To Animated Cartoon Comedies

GOLDBERG ANIMATED CARTOONS SOMETHING NEW IN PHOTOPLAYS—FAMOUS ARTIST OF THE "MAIL" WILL DRAW FOR THE SCREEN.

The announcement that R. L. Goldberg, the famous artist-humorist of the N. Y. Evening Mail, is producing animated cartoon comedies for the motion picture screen which will be released through Pathe, recalls a romance of success that is almost unparalleled.

Mr. Goldberg for some years has enjoyed a position on the very top round of the newspaper ladder, and his cartoons have achieved such popularity that they have been syndicated and are being published in one newspaper in every large city of the country.

To be only thirty-three and yet draw a salary of $50,000 yearly, with percentages bringing it up to some $100,000, is to be in a class by yourself, and that is true of R. L. Goldberg. He was born in San Francisco, and at an early age made up his mind to be a newspaper artist. His father, a substantial business man, strenuously objected to the boy's ambition, saying that there was no money in the newspaper business. Mr. Goldberg, senior, prefers to forget his early objections now.

As a student in the University of California, studying to be an engineer, he was drawing continually for the mere fun of it. His pictures were published in the college paper and his fellow students learned to look for them. There was something different in the young man's outlook on life, something different in the creations of his pencil, and something different in the captions,—in the imaginary conversations of his brain people. He graduated from the University in 1904 with the degree of Bachelor of Science and soon got a job at planning sewers in the San Francisco City Engineer's office at $100 per month. However, it strains one's sense of humor considerably to see humor in sewers, so he threw up his job to take one with a San Francisco paper at $8 a week. He was hired to draw daily cartoons for the sport page, but the paper didn't publish his cartoons and he wanted to see them in print. So he quit this job also, and went to another paper that agreed to publish his pictures. The salary was even less at the new job than at his other one, but that didn't bother him, for he found it better fun. A few months of this and he decided that New York was the better field, and so went East. He talked to three or four editors, all of whom he failed to interest until he went to the Evening Mail. There he was offered the chance to make pictures daily for the sporting page. That was nine years ago, and he is still with the Mail. He started in at $50 per week. Three months later it became $65 a week; six months later $75 a week, and at the end of a year he got a two years' contract at $100 a week. At this time, too, his cartoons were first sold to other newspapers throughout the country. Today his pictures are being seen by more than 2,200,000 persons daily. At the close of his third year he signed a three years' contract at $200 a week, followed by another at $450 a week. His new contract now gives him a salary of $50,000 per year and royalties—surely a pretty respectable jump from $8 per week.

Mr. Goldberg works hard for his big salary. Early and late he is at it, going over his pictures again and again until he has produced what he wanted to obtain. His pictures are intensely human and his characters unlike anything that was ever conceived before.

Mr. Goldberg is the most companionable of persons. His success has not spoiled him, and he is as modest as though he were still earning his $8 a week. His animated cartoons represent a year's patient work and experimentation, and they will strike a new note of originality and cleverness on the screen.

There is little doubt but what the Pathe people have done a good stroke of business in acquiring these films.

is given too little attention by the average director, which is largely responsible for the vast quantity of only mediocre pictures now produced.

"A comprehensive knowledge of psychology, in all its branches, is a necessary complement of good direction. For motion pictures have progressed to such a stage that psychology is the base upon which they are all built. The public of today demands something more than mere action; it demands a well developed theme, and when you enter upon this you enter the realms of psychology. To incorporate human nature into a picture you must understand the science of mental phenomena, for it is this science that is guiding the guiding hand of realistic action.

"To my mind the action of a director in producing a picture is largely subconscious. I can only speak of my own individual method. First, there is the purely technical work of designing the sets. I work out every detail of this in advance, even selecting the design and color of the wall paper. Then I pick out my furniture and work out detailed plans of just how it will be arranged in the completed sets. I even carry out this initial supervision so far as to accompany the women of the cast to the stores where they purchase their gowns, in order to be perfectly sure before I start work that everything is in harmony. During all this time I am thinking deeply of the play as a whole, not in a conscious detailed manner, but absorbing the theme, the atmosphere, in a subconscious manner. When it comes to the actual acting of the various scenes the whole idea is in my mind. I first send my people through a scene without instruction, for frequently they, in studying out the action of the picture evolve ideas that are valuable. Then by combining the best of their initial work with my own previously conceived ideas, I arrive at the manner in which the scene should be played.

"Composition is a subject that bothers many directors. Personally, I never bother about it, except to notice when it is wrong. The ability to judge composition is something that is more or less born in one. One does not necessarily group his characters in certain definite positions, but should they group themselves in a manner that offends the rules of good composition the fault is at once noticeable to the good director."

Mr. Fitzmaurice, it is interesting to note, is the man who produced "Via Wireless," "At Bay," and "New York," for the Pathe Gold Rooster program,—three pictures that are considered among the best of the last twelve months. He is now finishing "Big Jim Garrity" for the same concern.

FRENCH ATTACKS ARE REPULSED

(Associated Press Cable)
Berlin, March 20.—An attack made by French troops on the village of Vaux, northeast of Verdun, was repulsed with heavy losses, the War Office announces today.

The violent attacks of the Russians in the lake region on the northern part of the eastern front were continued.

The Russians charged repeatedly with strong forces, but were beaten back with large losses, the official statement declares.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION

(Associated Press Cable)
London, March 20 — A news agency dispatch from Rome carries a report of an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Premier Radoslavoff of Bulgaria.

RESIDENCES CHANGE HANDS

Os. Briggs has purchased the Glenn Allen property on E. Temple street, Mr. Allen taking Mr. Briggs' Market street property in the deal.

Mr. Briggs and family will move next week into their new home, Mr. Allen having not yet made definite decision in regard to his plans.

NK PHALWANI HERE ADDRESSES PUPILS

Nk Phalwani, of the University of Bombay, India, native of India and well known lecturer, addressed the students of the high school and grammar grades at the High School Auditorium, Monday morning, delivering a very interesting lecture on "Social and Intellectual India."

Dr. Phalwani gave his young auditors a good insight into India and her progress.

FOUR MARRIAGES IN TWENTY DAYS

Only four marriage licenses have been issued in the local probate court during March.

Last March 18 licenses were issued and the previous March 8 were issued.

Indications are that the present month will be a record breaker for few licenses issued.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS EVANGELIST

Evangelist D. B. White addressed a large audience of men in the Presbyterian church, Sunday afternoon, including men from all of the churches.

His sermon was full of interest to

WALTER RUNCIMAN

He is President of the British Board of Trade.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS SERVICE

The evangelistic meetings now in progress at the Christain Church continue with much interest. Because of the lack of room the service was held Sunday night in the High School Auditorium. The room was filled, extra chairs were brought in and some stood throughout the service, large chorus of nearly fifty singers occupied the platform, and were led by Mr. Troy in a great song service. A number of special selections were rendered by the chorus. A junior choir also assisted in the singing. Mr. Troy repeated by request the solo: "Jesus is My Friend," which was pleasing to all.

The subject of the sermon was "The Lordship of Christ," Rev. Groves taking for his text Phil. 2:11, "And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord."

He emphasized that Christ was our Lord in life, death, judgment and the future state. He urged that He be given pre-eminence in all things—in home, business and social relationship.

The service tonight will be held in the church. The subject announced is "The Eight Model Cases of Conversation."

UNVEILING OF ELK OCCURS THIS WEEK

At a special meeting of the Washington Lodge of B. P. O. Elks, to be held Friday night, of this week, the big Elk, which was exhibited in this city sometime ago, and which has been mounted by an expert taxidermist, will be unveiled with appropriate ceremonies.

The event promises to be one of more than ordinary interest, and in addition to the unveiling, the elk's teeth, which have been polished, will be sold to the highest bidder.

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS LECTURE

There was a very large audience at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night, when Rev. Wm. Bovington Gage delivered a fine lecture on "Mexico," its customs and people.

cities and scenic beauties, its buildings and piazzas, shown in beautiful stereopticon pictures, added greatly to the interest of the lecture.

Rev. Gage spent his boyhood days in Mexico and was able to give the personal view point to the country now so in the limelight of public interest.

FALSE ALARMS BY THE MANY HUNDREDS

The Washington fire fighting force is annoyed from five to fifty time each day by false alarms coming in—due in a small part to the fact that some people desiring to talk to some person at the Engine house, fails to remember that the number to call, unless reporting fires is 3331, and that number 16, of the automatic, is for fires alone.

The chief cause of the trouble is that there are scores of calls for "information operator," which is No. 18, or the "trouble clerk," which is 17, and that the party calling fails to dial properly and a fire alarm is turned in instead.

Time after time the automatic rings forth during the day and late into the night, and as a result the firemen are kept "on edge" much of the time, expecting with each call that it will be necessary to respond with the fire fighting apparatus.

As a kindness to the firemen, all persons liable to make the above mistakes are urged to exercise the greatest possible care.

PLENTY OF DRUNKS HERE SATURDAY NIGHT

Drunks and drinkers were very much in evidence, Saturday night, and one man is authority for the statement that in one alley a square from the court house he saw seven men, some of whom were intoxicated and in another alley in the shadow of the court house two others were noticed, while there was much evidence on the street of drinking, although no real disturbance so far as known.

The man making the complaint stated that not in recent years has whiskey been so abundant about the city as at the present time, indicating an overabundance of bootleggers.

575 ATTEND GRACE M. E. SUNDAY SCHOOL

Attendance at Grace M. E. Sunday school, Sunday morning totalled 575 and efforts will be made to boost this to 650 or 700 next Sunday.

Attendance in the men's classes was 144, and this is expected to be increased to 175 or 200 next Sunday.

An enthusiastic meeting was held at Wesley Chapel, Sunday afternoon.

KELLOUGH FARM CHANGES HANDS

The 250 acre farm owned by Mr. J. P. Kellough, located in Paint and Jefferson townships has been traded by Mr. Kellough for a 432 acre farm north of Urbana, and Mr. Kellough is now crating his household goods to move to his newly acquired farm.

The trade was made with Judge W. C. Keiss, of Bucyrus, Ohio, who it is understood, will either lease or sell the farm in the near future.

PETTY THIEVES ARE STILL BUSY

Petty thieving, particularly on Sunnyside, continues without interruption, and chickens, household effects and practically everything that can be carried off, are included among the missing.

The continuance of the thieving and no relief is the source of a great deal of annoyance on Sunnyside and the citizens are urging definite action to break up the practice.

Home Missionary Tells How She Restored Her Strength.

"I am a Home Missionary, was weak and run-down after a hard spell of LaGrippe. I had headaches, indigestion and pains in my chest, and was tired all the time. A friend asked me to try Vinol and the result is I am free from those troubles and I feel well and strong and able to go to work again." Mrs. Hattie Johnson, Towanda, Pa.

The reason Vinol was so successful in building up Mrs. Johnson's health is because it is a constitutional remedy which contains peptonate of iron to enrich and revitalize the blood, the nourishing properties of beef petone and the healing medicinal extractivities of fresh, healthy cods' livers, all combined in a deli-

SUB. NATIONALS MEET

(By American Press)
Chicago, March 20.—The national committee's subcommittee on convention arrangement is in session here today. Among those in attendance are Franklin Murphy of New Jersey, Fred Stanley of Kansas, Ralph Williams of Oregon and William Stone of Maryland. Mr. Williams declared himself for the selection of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho for temporary chairman of the convention.

SOCIALISTS BEGIN

(By American Press)
New York, March 20.—Allan L. Benson of Yonkers began his campaign for president of the United States on the Socialist party ticket when he addressed 2,000 enthusiastic men and women of his party in the Bronx. Mr. Benson's speech was an attack on President Wilson and his plan of "preparedness." He accused the president of insincerity.
